Nathan Sawaya's childhood was a lot of fun. He drew cartoons, wrote stories, and played with plastic toy bricks (积木). His grandparents bought his first set of toy bricks when he was five years old and he's been building with toy bricks ever since. He even took his building bricks to college with him! Instead of books and a computer, he had a model of Greenwich Village made of bricks on his desk.

Nathan started as a lawyer but gave up his highly-paid (高薪的) job to become an artist that uses toys in his art. He uses toy bricks to build everything from the Statue of Liberty (自由女神像) to Superman! He has more than 1.5 million colored bricks in his working room in New York which he uses to make pieces of art. He started by building small models but then decided to do something big and created a self-portrait (自画像). It took him two days just to build the eyes.

Nathan's work has appeared in museums around the world. Children love his art because it is made out of the same toys that they play with at home and adults love his work because it is fascinating. Since it began in 2007, Nathan's exhibition "The Art of the Brick" has been very popular with museum visitors everywhere.

"I'm proud that I took a dream I had as a child, to become an artist, and I have actually made a job out of it," says Nathan. "To do what you love in life is the most important thing."

69. What did Nathan put on his desk at college?
 A. The Statue of Liberty. B. Superman.
 C. His self-portrait. D. A Greenwich Village model.
70. Why did Nathan give up his job as a lawyer?
 A. Because he made little money out of a lawyer.
 B. Because he wanted to make toys for the children.
 C. Because he decided to become an artist of toy bricks.
 D. Because he was going to work in the museum instead.
71. What does the underlined word "it" in Paragraph 3 refer to?
 A. Nathan's work. B. Nathan's exhibition.
 C. Nathan's art. D. Nathan's self-portrait.
72. What would be the best title for the passage?
 A. The Brick Artist B. The Brick Exhibition
 C. Toy Bricks for Adults D. The Artist's Childhood

C

Should we be afraid of sharks? Maybe not. New research into the reasons for shark attacks (攻击) suggests that sharks don't like the way humans taste! In fact, most people who are attacked by the shark are still alive after receiving only one bite (咬). Why is this?

There are many opinions to explain why sharks sometimes attack people. One opinion is that sharks are just curious (好奇的). We know that sharks are the strongest animals in their environment, so they are not afraid of anything. Naturally, that means they are curious when they meet something unusual. Because they don't have hands or feet, the only way they can find out about an object is to bite it! It is thought that sharks sometimes bite humans for this reason, and then swim away.

Scientists also say that sharks would not waste energy trying to eat a human, as we have a lot of bones (骨头). It is hard for a shark to eat us because sharks don't have hands, and they can't pull the meat off our bones. Maybe that's why they only bite us once. Unluckily, one bite from a large shark is serious enough to hurt people greatly!

Another opinion is that sharks attack humans by mistake. Some sharks may sometimes mistake humans for a seal. An example of this is when a shark attacks a surfer. A surfer lying on a surfboard looks like a seal when seen from below. Sharks like seals because they have thick fat.

Whatever the reason for shark attacks on humans, sharks should be afraid of us. Sadly, we kill almost 40 million of them each year.

73. What happens to people attacked by sharks?
A. Most of them become blind. B. Most of them become deaf.
C. Most of them die. D. Most of them are still alive.
74. How do sharks find out about an unusual object according to the passage?
A. By biting. B. By smelling.
C. By touching. D. By killing.
75. Which sentence about sharks is true?
A. Sharks pull meat off bones when they eat.
B. Sharks might mistake humans for seals.
C. Sharks like to attack surfers because of their thick fat.
D. One bite from a shark is nothing serious.
76. What would the author write the passage mainly for?
A. To tell surfers to stay away from sharks.
B. To ask people to stop killing sharks.
C. To let us know the reasons for shark attacks on people.
D. To show that humans are much stronger than sharks.

When I crossed a small road on my first day in Kolkata, I was surprised because I heard a bell — not a horn (喇叭). It was a tiny man pulling a rickshaw. He stopped and picked up two children from the front door of their house and pulled them to school. For many people, the rickshaw in Kolkata has many advantages. When the traffic is bad, rickshaws find a way through the traffic. If you miss your bus and there aren't any taxis, you can always find a rickshaw in Kolkata. Rickshaws are also very popular with local shoppers. The driver takes you from your house to the market and waits for you. Then he loads (装载) all your things, drops you off outside your home and helps you unload. No other type of public transport offers this kind of service.

From June to September, Kolkata gets heavy rain. Sometimes it rains for 48 hours without a break. In some parts of the city, the roads flood (水淹), and anything with an engine (发动机) is useless. But the rickshaw drivers never stop working, even with water all around them.

But not everyone thinks rickshaws are a good thing. The local government want to ban rickshaws. They believe it is wrong for one man to pull another person when there is modern transport in the city. However, there is a problem with this plan. Many of the rickshaw drivers come from the countryside. The only job they can find in Kolkata is pulling a rickshaw. If the city bans rickshaws, these men won't have a job. So for the moment, the people of Kolkata still go by rickshaw.

a rickshaw

77. What is the main idea of Paragraph 1?
 A. Rickshaws are very useful for the people's daily life in Kolkata.
 B. Parents need rickshaws for taking children to school in Kolkata.
 C. Rickshaws can find a way through the bad traffic in Kolkata.
 D. The rickshaw drivers carry things for local people in Kolkata.
78. Which type of transport may you take when the roads flood in Kolkata?
 A. A bus. B. A taxi. C. A car. D. A rickshaw.
79. What does the underlined word "ban" mean?
 A. make B. increase C. forbid D. collect
80. What can we learn from the passage?
 A. The rickshaws in Kolkata have loud horns.
 B. The rickshaw is still a part of public transport in Kolkata.
 C. The local government offer many other jobs to the rickshaw drivers.
 D. The people in Kolkata are supposed to take rickshaws instead of cars.
- B) 请先阅读下面短文, 掌握其大意, 然后根据短文内容从下面方框内的七个选项中, 选择五个还原到文中, 使短文意思通顺、结构完整, 并在答题卷上将其序号涂黑。(每小题 2 分)

Hi Grace,

How's it going? Sorry I haven't emailed for a while, but I had so much to do!

I had told you about my decision to take up a sport. I knew I wasn't fit and I wanted to get some exercise. But that wasn't the only reason that I decided to do a sport. Students who play sports do better at school. 81. _____ Exercise also helps learning and memory (记忆).

82. _____ First, I tried soccer. I had played a bit of soccer before and I thought it wouldn't be too bad. I knew I couldn't run for very long without feeling tired. On the first day, I was able to run for the first ten minutes, but then I was so tired that I couldn't even kick the ball!

Then, I tried volleyball. 83. _____ I was able to run for the first twenty minutes and I wasn't the slowest runner in the team! After a few weeks, I could run faster and longer. I was doing better and feeling better. 84. _____ Maybe I'm not a team sport person after all!

Finally, I tried kung fu (功夫). It's a great sport that exercises the body and the mind. You learn to follow instructions carefully and do what you are asked to do. This is the right sport for me! 85. _____ I feel so confident that I even showed some moves to the class last week! Can you believe it?

I hope you're OK! Write and let me know what you've been doing!

Bye for now!

Kristie

- A. I got very excited about soccer.

W: Good idea.

M: Keep in touch, Lily. I'll miss you.

W: Me, too. Take care!

请听第1段独白,回答第14至第16小题。

Hello, everyone. I'm Bob. I'd like to say something about my cousin Tommie. You won't believe your eyes when you see Tommie! He has changed a lot. The last time I saw him was only two years ago when he was in Grade 8. He was much shorter than me at the time, and he still had a child's voice. He was so shy when he saw me. He did not say much but he smiled a lot. Now Tommie is taller than me. He is in high school. He is not shy any more. He told me a lot of interesting things about his class when we met. He is working very hard at his lessons now, because he wants to go to Beijing University.

请听第2段独白,回答第17至第20小题。

I'm Cindy. My day begins far too early. I get up at 7:30 — usually after a late night. This means that I really need my coffee in the morning. I catch a bus to work. It's not very far so I don't get a chance to sleep on the way to the store where I work. That's a pity because most mornings I really need more sleep. I work from eight to five with a lunch break in between. When I get home, I'm very tired. I keep saying I will go to bed early, but I can seldom do that.

Attention, please. On Saturday evening, there's a talk for the International Club in our city by a famous writer, Miss Black. She teaches at the university in England. Well, she's giving a talk at 8 pm on Saturday evening in the library. I'm sure you'll find it very interesting. Miss Black has just returned from Africa and will talk about all her experiences there. She travelled through three different countries. She met lots of interesting people, including a famous actor. I'm sure the evening will be very popular. Have a good time. Thank you!
