One possible version:

How do we make good use of our time?

Time is important to everyone. We need to make good use of it. Here are some things we should spend more time on.

First of all, we should spend more time with our family. It's our family who will support us whenever we are in difficulty. Reading good books is also an important thing. Besides, we should exercise every day to keep healthy. Only when we are in good health will we be able to achieve our dreams. Of course, to make our dreams come true, more time needs to be spent in planning for our future. In addition, never forget to spend some time playing for fun, life should be full of happiness. Helping others can bring you happiness as well.

If we can make good use of our time, life will be more colorful and meaningful.
